40th Anniversary

Multifaith Service & Conference for Peace

Sunday, November 10, 2019

Jim Wallis will be the preacher for the morning Multifaith Service.

Jim Wallis is a bestselling author, public theologian, speaker, and international commentator on ethics and public life. He is president and founder of Sojourners, where he is also editor-in-chief of Sojourners magazine, which has a combined print and online readership of more than 5 million people. He spent his student years involved in the civil rights and antiwar movements. Jim founded Sojourners while a student at Trinity Evangelical Divinity School in Illinois. Jim and several other students started a small magazine and community with a Christian commitment to social justice. More than 40 years later, Sojourners has become a major faith-based organization.

Dan Ellsberg will speak at the afternoon Conference.

Beginning in 1969, while working for the RAND Corporation, Daniel Ellsberg privately photocopied a 7,000-page top secret study of America’s intentions in Vietnam. Ellsberg gave these “Pentagon Papers” to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in 1969 and, two years later, to the New York Times, Washington Post, and 17 other newspapers. Since the end of the Vietnam War, his main activity has been anti-nuclear lecturing, writing, and activism. In the early 1990s he also worked for three years with Physicians for Social Responsibility, lobbying to end the nuclear arms race. In July 2004, Ellsberg announced The Truth-Telling Project, his call for White House, Pentagon, and other federal employees to come forward and expose government lies and cover-ups.

Jenny Town will speak at the afternoon Conference.

Jenny Town is a Research Analyst at the Stimson Center and the Managing Editor and Producer of “38 North,” a web journal that provides policy and technical analysis on North Korea. She is the former Assistant Director of the US-Korea Institute at Johns Hopkins School of Advanced International Studies where she focused on North Korea, US-DPRK relations, US-ROK alliance, and Northeast Asia regional security. She is an expert reviewer for Freedom House’s Freedom in the World Index, where she previously worked on the Human Rights in North Korea Project. She is an Associate Fellow at the Foreign Policy Institute at SAIS, a Member of the National Committee on North Korea, and an Associate Member of the Council of Korean Americans. She also serves on the Editorial Board for Inkstick, an online foreign policy journal for emerging scholars.

Dr. Frank von Hippel will speak at the afternoon Conference.

Frank von Hippel is a theoretical physicist, and a Professor of Public and International Affairs at Princeton University. Prior to working at Princeton, he worked for ten years in the field of theoretical elementary-particle physics.

In the 1980s, as chairman of the Federation of American Scientists, Von Hippel partnered with Evgenyi Velikhov in advising Mikhail Gorbachev on the technical basis for steps to end the nuclear arms race. From 1993 to 1995, he was the Assistant Director for National Security in the White House Office of Science and Technology Policy. He now serves on the National Advisory Board of the Center for Arms Control and Non-Proliferation, the research arm of Council for a Livable World. He’s on the International Panel on Fissile Materials.
